

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 13, 1904.

Affairs in Russia are causing the Czar and his adherents great anxiety. There is said to be widespread dissatisfaction throughout the empire, and these conditions are producing additional discontent daily. The impressment of men into the army is having a bad effect, especially where the conscripts are compelled to leave wives and helpless children behind them. In addition to these grave conditions, the result of war, there is a dangerous movement in favor of a change of the government system. Advice from Siberia as to the effect that terrible distress exists in that portion of the Czar's realm. Many in St. Petersburg believe that city is in danger of being attacked by the Japanese. General Kuropatkin has himself advised the authorities to fortify St. Petersburg as an actual and pressing necessity, because the Japanese fleet released from duty at Port Arthur may sail direct for the Baltic and carry the war into Russia. The orders have been issued and men are at work on the fortifications. But a peace party has sprung up in St. Petersburg. It is composed of men high in the confidence of the Czar. The proposal is that the fall of Port Arthur shall end the war; that the catastrophe will be followed immediately by peace proposals. It is not believed that Japan will be hard to deal with. The immediate abandonment of Manchuria and the dismantlement of the fortifications at Vladivostok will satisfy the Japanese.

With a party of rifle bullets fired over their heads by the militia and deputies to warn them to hurry eastward as fast as their legs could carry them and never again to set foot on Colorado soil, ninety-one union miners from the Cripple Creek district were unloaded from a special Santa Fe train on the prairie on Saturday last, one-half mile from the Colorado-Kansas State line, and left to shift for themselves. The train stopped in the midst of alkali sand dunes that dot the prairie near the Kansas line. The men were left on the prairie without food or water, for the soldiers and deputies, in their haste to get home, had forgotten to unload the small stock of commissary supplies the train carried when it left. Warned by the Kansas authorities that they would not be allowed to seek refuge in the State, the spirit of the men broke. Many of them finally walked back on the railroad track to Holly. The Federation of Labor at Chicago has appealed to President Roosevelt to send troops to Colorado for the purpose of protecting union men from the exasperated Citizens' Alliance and State troops. The exasperated men are truly in a pitiable plight—driven from Colorado into another hostile State, forced to become tramps and suffering for the necessities of life.

DOWIE, the pretended Elijah, arrived in London Saturday morning from Holland, and made a tour of the hotels, accompanied by his wife, and son, and escorted by deacons, in search of accommodations. Everywhere he met with a refusal, as the hotel managers are afraid of a repetition of the rowdiness which marked Dowie's former stay in London. Ultimately, being unable to find lodging, Dowie proceeded to the Zionist headquarters. In by-gone years the English people have been duped by many religious impostors. Almost since the days of the Druids religious sects or individuals have made the British isles the scene of their impositions. Readers of English history have often been struck by this fact. The strange hallucinations of Joanna Southcott and the epidemic which she produced in London will be remembered by many. Dowie, it seems, fails to appeal to the English and his star is on a rapid wane.

It is among the possibilities of the early future that patrons of barber shops in Washington will be protected by law from insidious dangers. Antiseptic cups and brushes may be used in all the "tonsorial parlors," and the germ of "barber's itch" eliminated as far as possible. The health officer of the District of Columbia has collected a mass of evidence on the dangers of non-antiseptic shaving and hair-cutting, and is in favor of strict laws for the inspection of barber shops. Some years ago a movement toward the same end was inaugurated in Virginia, and a State inspector was among the possibilities. A well-known knight of the razor in Alexandria was a formidable candidate for the position, but for some reason the office was not created.

This report that the submarine boat Protector had been shipped from Newport News for Japan is being discussed in St. Petersburg. The papers of that city express the hope that the United States government will make a detailed explanation of why the boat was allowed to leave the United States. It is said that the boat was placed upon a tramp Norwegian steamer which is on its way to Japan. Hamilton Fish, when Secretary of State, laid down an opinion to the effect that a torpedo boat capable of being carried on the deck of a ship might properly be regarded as an article of merchandise and so might be sold to a belligerent without violation of neutrality, but subject to the risk of seizure on the high seas. This assumption, however, will not prove satisfactory to Russia, and will add to the friction already existing between the Czar's government and the United States.

ONE of the most recent modes of antagonizing tuberculosis is to prepare a dilute solution of sputum obtained from a sufferer from this disease, filter out all bacilli and other solid particles, and inject the pure fluid hyperemically. Dr. Manson, of Philadelphia, says in "American Medicine" that he has noticed an improvement in the condition of three patients on whom he tried the treatment, and he thinks the plan is superior to that which utilizes cultures of the bacilli. Well authenticated experiments like these deserve to go on record, but, says the New York Tribune, a great many more of them are needed before it will be possible to say whether or not Dr. Manson has made an important discovery.

It is said in Washington that the republican convention at Chicago will be in session two days. The opening day, Tuesday, June 21, is to be devoted to organization and the appointment of committees, and the second to adoption of the platform and the nomination of the ticket. As Mr. Roosevelt has already virtually nominated himself, and as the platform has been agreed upon, why is a two days' session of the convention necessary?

MR. FLANAGAN, a New Jersey delegate to the St. Louis convention, says, on the authority of Mr. Cleveland, that the latter "is not only not a candidate for President but that he would not take the nomination if it were tendered him." This should settle the question of Mr. Cleveland's candidacy for good and put a stop to the frequent statements that he is seeking or would accept the nomination.

Fatal Blow.

J. M. Hooper was assaulted on Saturday night by William Jenkins in front of a saloon at 472 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, Washington, and died at the Casualty Hospital yesterday morning without regaining consciousness. Jenkins was arrested a few minutes before his victim's death. Jenkins told the police yesterday that Hooper assaulted him first, and that he struck in self-defense with his fist, knocking him down. Half a dozen witnesses found by the police declared that Jenkins was the aggressor. Hooper was forty-one years old and a native of Virginia. He was a carpenter by trade. Jenkins is a huckster, thirty-one years old, and makes his home in various stables about Washington where he puts his horse and wagon up for the night. Recently he has been living in an alley in the rear of the National Hotel.

The Congressional Race.

State Senator Opie has failed to qualify for the race for Congress in the Tenth district. In only one district is there a contest between democrats. In the First district, Hon. W. A. Jones will walk in a winner. Harry L. Maynard will have no trouble in the Second, nor will Capt. John Lamb be disturbed by any one in the Third. A fight of considerable interest is on in the Fourth, where the incumbent, Robert G. Southall, is opposed by former Gov. William E. Cameron. Congressman Claude A. Swanson will have no opposition in the Fifth, and the retirement of Sen. Carter W. P. Barksdale leaves Hon. Carter Glass a clear field in the Sixth. Hon. James Hay is a winner in the Seventh, as are John F. Bixey, in the Eighth, and H. D. Flood, in the Tenth. The Ninth is the battle-ground. It is now represented by H. Campbell Slemph. He is being opposed by Joseph C. Wysox.

Mystery surrounds the find of the body of Joseph Loveday, formerly a clerk in the Treasury Department in Washington, D. A riot occurred on the Northern Pacific passenger train near Burke, Idaho, Saturday night between union miners from the Hercules mine and non-union miners from the properties of the Federal Mining and Smelting Company. The two men made a lucky run for it and fortunately escaped, but not until two horses had been killed and about twenty-five shots had been exchanged.

Their wedding was celebrated at Bridgeport with great pomp, several hundred of the most exclusive of New York society people being among the guests. But the union was not a happy one.

James Agnor, a foreman at the oil-house in the Ronoke shops, was badly cut on the street Saturday night by an unknown man. He had his right eye cut out and several bad cuts about his arms and shoulders. Mr. Agnor can give no intelligent account of how the affair occurred or by whom he was so terribly injured. His condition is precarious.

At its meeting Saturday night the Central Labor Union of Newport News placed the city market on the unfair list. This action grew out of litigation regarding the employment of union labor on certain necessary changes. The call for bids carried the union labor provision, but a contractor sued out an injunction against that feature, and since then the courts have made the injunction permanent. A fine will be placed on any union man patronizing the market.

Rev. Julian S. Sibley, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, in Winchester, resigned the pastorate yesterday morning to accept a call to a church at Pensacola, Fla. The resignation came as a surprise. REPORTS OF NAVAL BATTLE.

Rumors are in circulation in St. Petersburg to the effect that a great naval battle has taken place off Port Arthur, in which two Russian and four Japanese battleships were sunk. No confirmation of the rumor can be obtained.

The military commission assigned to bury the Russian dead in the battle of Nanshan Hill, at Kinchen, May 20, presented its final report yesterday. It was found that 10 Russian officers and 664 men who fell in the battle had been buried, and 30 men were buried by the outposts, making the total number of killed left behind by the Russians 704.

A flanking movement of the Japanese around the Russian left from Feng Wang Cheng June 2 was repulsed with a loss of two whole battalions. A large Japanese force moved out in the morning along the Feng Wang Cheng and Hai-cheng road. The Russians had a force strongly posted in a ravine 30 miles southeast of Hai-cheng. The Japanese were preceded by two battalions who walked into the Russian ambush.

They received a murderous rifle and artillery fire at close range, and were wiped out, only one or two escaping. The main Japanese force, which was greatly superior to the Russian force, tried to outflank the Russians, who drew off without losing a man. The Japanese closing in found the ravine vacant save for their own dead.

Rear Admiral Togo reports that on Tuesday a part of the fleet bombarded the west coast of the Liaoting Peninsula, near Kaichow, and drove bank a military train that was approaching seaward. No trains have been seen since. The enemy was driving in troops and throwing up works, evidently expecting a landing of the Japanese on that point and making all preparations to prevent it. Small gunboats sent close in by Rear Admiral Togo bombarded the Russians at work, and it is believed, caused considerable damage.

Colored pictures of the war have been distributed in Craow in large quantities with the sanction of the Russian censorship in Moscow and the rural districts of Central Russia. In all of them the Russian troops are represented victors over Japanese. At Chemulpo it is not Russian, but Japanese ships which are sinking. The town of Hakadae is being shattered to pieces by the guns of the Russian fleet. Japanese infantry are being shot down by the Russians at Tien-wan. In a representation of the battle on the Yalu the Russians are shown driving the Japanese across the river, a priest is at the head of the Russian troops, and above is a figure of Christ blessing the Russians' achievements.

Selling their Hair.

An idea of the heaviness of the war expenses upon the Japanese people may be gained from the fact that Japanese women are selling their hair in order to get a little addition to the family income. This fact is revealed by the records of the U. S. Treasury Department, which show that since the outbreak of the war and the imposition of additional taxes the imports of human hair from the island empire have greatly increased. The increase has been so great that the invoice price, as shown in the reports made to the appraisers, has fallen considerably. These two facts caused an inquiry to be made, with the result that the agents of the department were told that Japanese women are selling their hair for the purpose of increasing the family income, and some for the purpose of adding the money they get from the sacrifice to the popular subscriptions for the army and the navy. Even rich women are said to be making the sacrifice of their long black coils, of which they are so proud.

The demand for Japanese hair in this country comes from those dealers who make a specialty of supplying the hair stores patronized by colored women. The Situation in Cripple Creek. Cripple Creek, Col., June 13.—The situation in the Cripple Creek district this morning was practically normal. The authorities both civil and military expect no further trouble. Another batch of unionists will be deported tomorrow, and this will wind up the military campaign of driving the men from the district.

Today's Telegraphic News.

ANOTHER DEFEAT.

Russians Entrapped and Eight Hundred Men Killed and Wounded.

Newchwang, June 13.—It is reported that the Russians have suffered a severe defeat as the result of an ambush at Pulanben, (probably Pulientien, to the rear of Port Arthur.) The Japanese attacked the Russians, and then drew the latter on by a feigned retreat. The Russians were entrapped and are said to have lost 800 men killed and wounded. The Czar's troops have fallen back on Kai Chow.

Tien Tsin, June 13.—The Russian battleship Czarewitsch, which was damaged by a Japanese torpedo at the beginning of the war, has been repaired at Port Arthur and is now ready for action. The sea outside the port is thickly strewn with Russian mines, a constant menace to navigation. According to the report received here there is no truth in the report current some days ago that the Russian gunboat Gliak had been destroyed.

Rome, June 13.—A dispatch from Seoul states that 20,000 reinforcements have been sent to General Kuroki, who though still at Feng Huang-Cheng, has pushed advance guards among the hills. These advance forces have gone as far as Motienting Pass, where on Saturday they encountered a force of Russians who withdrew leaving an officer and six soldiers dead. The Japanese lost an officer and three men. Kuroki's plan, says the dispatch, seem to be to deliver an attack on Liao Yang, simultaneously with that of the armies east and south.

Newchwang, June 13.—Two thousand Russian infantry passed through Newchwang yesterday morning from the direction of Kai Chow, accompanied by a large supply of hospital trains and a number of ambulances full of wounded. The troops appeared to be exhausted after a long forced march. An officer said they were retreating from Tsai-Chow. The Russians have abandoned their position eight miles south of Newchwang.

Armenian Massacres.

Constantinople, June 13.—Armenian patriars have received information that an irade has been issued by the Sultan, which has resulted in wholesale massacres and the destruction of Armenian property. The irade prohibits the settlement of Armenians in the villages destroyed. According to the official order they must settle in places indicated by the Sultan in the plains. The object of the operations of Turkish troops in the past has been to clear Armenians out of their mountain homes, where they were more secure than in the plains. According to information received, two days were devoted to massacres, May 16th and June 3d. On these two days 15 villages were destroyed in the district of Chetras, and 22 in the district of Hian. Of a population aggregating 5,000 persons 2,000 were massacred. Women of the villages who disappeared during the massacres have been recovered by their husbands, but most of the girls who disappeared have not been seen since. The patriars applied to the palace for aid of the wounded and starving, but the only reply received was: "All is finished." Massacres are feared in many other places. Shops have been closed for three days at Bitlis, where at Diarbekir and Sassoun the reserves have been sent for by the authorities to suppress any disorders.

Averse to Hanging a Woman.

Hackensack, N. J., June 13.—Hoping by some means to prevent the execution on the gallows in the county jail next Wednesday of Anna Valentina, a number of prominent women of the city began a crusade today to arouse public sentiment that the board of pardons would be influenced at its meeting tomorrow to grant a reprieve until a new trial can be had for the condemned woman. Not many years have the good men and women been so wrought up over the prospect of the repugnant spectacle of a woman being hanged in this cultivated community.

Attack on Burgomaster.

Vienna, June 13.—The remains of the eminent Doctor John Strauss, the "Waltz King," were this morning transferred to a grave erected at the public expense in Central Friedhof. After the ceremony, as the burgomaster, Doctor Lueger was re-entering his carriage, the wife of a Vienna tailor named Lupka rushed forward and struck him on the head with an umbrella, shouting: "I have been seeking you for twelve years. Now I've got you." The woman was arrested. The burgomaster was much upset by the affair.

Murderers Electrocuted.

Ossining, N. Y., June 13.—The electric chair in Sing Sing prison claimed two more victims this morning when Albert Koepping, who murdered John G. Martine, at Port Jervis, and Oscar Borgstrom, the Mount Kisco wife murderer, were successfully electrocuted. Unlucky thirteen was much in evidence. Today is the thirteenth of the month and there were thirteen condemned men in the death house at the time the officers went for Koepping, the first victim.

Nan Patterson Indicted for Murder. New York, June 13.—The grand jury at 11:30 this morning, found an indictment for murder in the first degree against Nan Patterson who was with "Caesar" Young in a hansom on West Broadway, when he was shot a week ago Saturday. Miss Patterson who had entered the coroner's court in good spirits, collapsed, when her lawyer, Abe Levy, told her of the indictment.

Will Be Ready for the Fight.

San Francisco, June 13.—Champion Jim Jeffries was able to do a little light training today for the first time in several days. The big fellow has a case of "housemaid's knee," and was compelled to stop training for his fight with Munroe next Friday. Billy Delaney, his manager, says Jeffries will be in good shape when the time comes to enter the ring.

Raisuli's Demands Granted.

Paris, June 13.—The Temps has a dispatch from its Tangier correspondent stating that the Sultan of Morocco has granted all of Raisuli's demands. The fulfillment of these promises, says the correspondent, is the sole remaining subject at discussion.

A Perfect Milk Food.

Postoffice Robbed. Johnstown, Pa., June 13.—The safe in the postoffice at Boynton, a small mining town several miles from Salisbury, Somerset county, was blown open by burglars Thursday night and about $100 in stamps, together with a small amount of money secured. Three men are now locked up in the Somerset jail who are believed to be the parties who did the job.

Anarchist Sentenced. Marseilles, June 13.—Casulani Homini, an anarchist, found guilty of being in a plot to assassinate President Loubet, during the latter's recent visit to Rome, was today sentenced to three years and two months' imprisonment.

New York Stock Market. New York, June 13, 11 a. m.—The stock market opened generally strong with good fractional gains in Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Louisville & Nashville, Southern Railway preferred, N. & W., Denver & Rio Grande issues, Texas & Pacific, and Kansas City Southern. The preferred stock of the last named, after opening up half per cent. further rose 2 points. In the industrials considerable irregularity was shown. U. S. Steel preferred was pressed for sale from start and declined nearly a point. T. C. I. opened up 1/2 but later receded 1 per cent. Amalgamated Copper opened strong, but declined fractionally. National Lead scored another high point on recent movements. Toward the end of the first hour profit taking sales caused moderate reactions. The declines were unimportant, however, and the undertone was fairly firm.

Startling Evidence. Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, of Porterville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadenster, Dr. Sells, druggists. Trial bottles free, regular size 50c and $1.00.

Sued by His Doctor. "A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White, of Casachella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath that it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by Richard Gibson and W. F. Creighton & Co.
